James A. Garfield

JAMES A. GARFIELD was born in Ohio on November 19, 1831. Shortly after his birth, his father died, and his mother was left to support the family which consisted of four small children. Young James was not able to secure an early education but after diligent home study and at the age of eighteen, he entered Geauga Seminary. He completed his work there, entered Hiram Institute, and from there went to Williams College in Massachusetts. Upon being graduated from this college, he was engaged as principal of Hiram Institute.

While there, the Civil War broke out. He organized a regiment at Hiram and was appointed lieutenant-colonel. He served with great distinction for over two years, but resigned to take his seat in the House of Representatives as a Republican representative from his state. Here General Garfield made quite a name for himself. He served on many committees and made many speeches with great credit to himself and to his party. In 1880 he was nominated for the presidency on the thirty-fifth ballot.

After his election but before his inauguration, he was beseiged by persistent office-seekers. Among these was Charles J. Guiteau, an eccentric and dishonest man. After becoming president, Garfield firmly refused to grant his request. Half-crazed, Guiteau plotted his revenge. On July 2, 1881 he shot the President in the railway station at Washington. President Garfield lingered for over two months but died on September 19, 1881.

Garfield was a generous, frank, sympathetic man of strong intellectual power and clear conscientious convictions. He was human and he made his mistakes. Yet he was one of the few great men who have left the world nobler, richer, and better for having lived in it, and he is deserving of our admiration, love, and affectionate remembrance.

Editorial

AT last our task is finished. With a sigh of relief we lay down our work. Few will realize the hours of thought and labor that were spent in gathering together these pages. We hope that you are satisfied with this book. Although handicapped in some ways, we offer no apologies.

If you, in turning through the pages of this book, receive any sense of pleasure, if any pleasant memories are recalled to your mind, or if you are filled with any degree of satisfaction, we feel that our work has been fully repaid. —The Staff.

Tribute

BEFORE going any farther, we, the staff, wish to voice our appreciation for the cooperation and financial backing we have received from the students and faculty. Many of the articles in this book were written by members of the different classes and organizations. The photographs were taken by Mr. Ewers. The printing was done in our own print-shop by Mr. Hutchinson, with the help of the printing classes. We feel that the work of these people should not be left unsung for it was with their help that the publication of this book was made possible.

Senior Class of '21

THE Senior Class organized before school closed in '20. John Markland was elected president; Mary Jones, vice-president; Harry Wiltse, secretary, and Leon Wallace, treasurer. Mrs. Sankey was chosen faculty advisor.

When school resumed in the fall of '20, the Senior class started into action immediately.

The formation of Class Clubs, to develop individual talent and to increase the cooperation and unity of the class, was an innovation.

The Senior Dramatic Club has just closed a very successful season, and has developed much latent ability in its members. Its study has been chiefly in the field of American dramatics.

A Literary Club was organized and the members spent many pleasant hours delving in the realm of literature.

During the first half of the senior year a very successful "Hard Times" party was held. In fact some of the class looked so much like Hard Times, that their best friends would not speak to them.

At Christmas a party was held, and everyone received a present. The gifts ranged from horns to miniature Fords. Each one was delighted with some of the gifts of their companions.

The class of '21 has been one of best classes that ever attended Garfield. In fact, it is the best class, we think, that ever graduated from Garfield. Not only has it inaugurated the organization of Student Clubs, conducted assembly-meetings; but also remained loyal to the "eight hour day" and refrained from any offense which might have incurred the "Auditorium Penalty."

This class has progressed from the old line of graduating classes, and has become a landmark in the organization of class and school spirit.

It is pathetic to think that when this class graduates it will cease to be a daily factor in the life at Garfield. But the spirit of the members will never die, but continue to be a spur to succeeding classes—to succeed after we have gone.

So—"with malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right," we are—

Class Prophecy

IT was in 1925 that I made a visit to my old home-town, Terre Haute. On alighting from the train, I heard the cry, "Taxi"? There stood a large bright green automobile with the lettering "Raymond Moore Taxi Company". On arriving at Seventh and Wabash, I saw Edward Rickelman directing the ever moving streams of traffic. On Wabash between Seventh and Eighth Streets was an attractive looking shop, catering to women only. I entered and learned that Thelma Dinkins was the owner. The styles and clothing displayed were direct from Paris and the articles were noted for being chic and unique. Margaret Mahoney was her business manager, and had proven to be a very capable one, owing to her experience gained in handling vast sums of money for the Literary Club. Gertrude O'Niel, Inis Martin, Ruth Boatman and Bertha Yatsko were employed as models and were proving to be drawing cards for the business.

Out on the street I bought a Tribune and found that the paper was now owned by Henry Shakely and Herman Rector. They had evidently worked themselves up from the ranks to that position. In the paper I saw many articles relating to old classmates and they included the following:

Noted Singer, Miss Knipmeyer, comes to Terre Haute for engagement. Terre Haute is fortunate in securing this great singer. She will be accompanied by Miss Armstrong at the piano, and by Mr. M. Topping, the young, brilliant violinist.

The faculty of Garfield High School for the coming year has been announced:

Robert Ferris ..... Principal.
Miss Ruby McClain ..... Foreign Language.
Miss Elizabeth Neil ..... Head of English Department.
Miss Bessie Davis ..... English.
Miss Ethel Davis ..... Botany and Geometry.
Mr. Orville Dunning ..... Head of Chemistry Department.
Mr. Gustave Pfeiffer ..... Chemistry.
Mr. Ernest Ewers ..... Head of Science Department. He, with his noted father, has made several important discoveries concerning new plants.
Mr. Wayne Watkins ..... Head of Mathematics Department. He, with his wife (formerly Miss C. Heiny) has just completed a new College Algebra complete with explanations and answers.
Miss Mary Justus ..... Commercial.
Miss Sophie Hartmann ..... Commercial.
Miss Mary Moore ..... Commercial.
Miss Wylma Wolf ..... Commercial.
(This department is the largest one at Garfield.)
Miss Lucile Watson ..... History.
Miss Hulda Sharp ..... Domestic Science.
Miss Thelma Scott ..... Art.
Miss Mary Jones ..... Athletic Director for Girls.
Mr. Virgil Broderick ..... Athletic Director for Boys.

The school board which is composed of Bernard Wheeler, Less Burcham, Miss Mary Newsom, Miss Dorothy Benson, and Edward Waits, is to be complimented on its excellent selection of teachers.

Notorious Dance-Hall closed—

At last, through the efforts of the great reformer, Miss Miriam Ratcliffe, the public nuisance owned by Paul K. Gibbons has been compelled to close its doors.

Everett Gosnell, the world-famous statisician is visiting friends and relatives in Terre Haute. He is accompanied by his wife Mrs. Margaret Dill Gosnell, who has been a great help to him in his work.

Miss Edith Flesher of near Terre Haute has suffered a complete nervous break-down, brought on by overwork and worry. Her friends join in wishing her a speedy recovery.

The Misses Helen Fulk and Orth have accepted positions as primary teachers at the North Terre Haute schools.

The Maple Avenue Methodist Sunday School gave a reception Thursday night for Mr. and Mrs. William Merry. Mrs. Merry is superintendent of the Sunday Scool, and through her efforts it has grown to be the second largest one in the city.

Terre Haute art lovers are well pleased with the exhibition of paintings displayed at the library which are the work of a home artist, Miss Ernestine Watkins. Her admirers predict a brilliant future for her.

In his announcement of Sunday marriages, Justice Law includes the marriages of Catherine Sullivan and Dorothy Brauns. Both married farmers, and will reside near Clinton.

The marriage of Miss Edith Palm and Mr. Leo Frisz has also been announced. Miss Palm has been employed as a stenographer, while Mr. Frisz is in Government employ in Yellowstone, National Park.

Miss Dinah Harrison has been made manager of the Herz basement store. She will have charge of about thirty clerks.

Miss Alta Holaday of Farmersburg spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Hazel Russell.

One of the most delightful parties of the season was given Wednesday evening by the Misses Verna Holler, Helen Tindall, and Marcella Wilson. These three young ladies are the leaders of society in the younger set. Mr. John Markland and Miss Helen Davis entertained with a series of fancy dances. Forrest Hardy and orchestra furnished the music for the dancing which was enjoyed until a late hour.

Mr. Glen Ashley has been sent as a delegate to the retail druggists' convention at Chicago.

The Misses Irene Steward and Margaret Little have joined the teaching staff af kegee Institute.

Mr. Earl Dawson and Nathan Whitecotton have leased the room formerly occupied by Scranton and Phillips. They have outgrown their old place of business at Twelve Points, and are to be established in their new quarters as soon as possible.

Miss Gertrude Smith has been appointed court stenographer.

Continuing down the street, I saw Mildred Holman still selling tickets at the Cresent. She told me that she and Hilda Bledsoe jointly owned the theatre, and that they were making large profits. A small green street-car passed and on the sign-board in front I read, Baseball Today, Come! Boost Terre Haute's Best Ball Team. Upon inquiring I learned that Robert Bell, Vern Dorsey, and Harry Staggs were on the team. Harold Schoonover was also a member of the team but was just recovering from injuries received in a previous game. While at the hospital, he had been waited upon by Miss Savanah Surber. Harold Nesbit was president of the league, and the season was proving to be a very successful one, due to the skillful work of Manager Wiltse.

A short distance down the street was a large grocery and dry goods store. The sign proclaimed, Herman Dersch and Company. Formerly Dersch and Fugate. Upon entrance I was greeted by Mr. Dersch and shown through the store. John Shaw was general manager, while Donovan Jenkins had charge of the ready-made clothing, having had previous training at Shultz and Smith. Gordon Kittle had charge of the grocery department, and was underselling every other grocery in town.

While in the store, I met Edith Eddy and Violet Smith attending a bargain sale. I learned from them that Mary Leek was married and living in California ,while Marguerite Price was living in Kansas. Louise Krausbeck had just established a new record for long distance walks. I was not at all surprised at this for she had received much training sprinting to and from school.

On North Sixth Street I saw a sign proclaiming Dowell's Delicatessen. I wanted to see Harry and find out if he still had any queer ideas about science and invention. He told me he was running the store to enable him to continue his scientific research. Martha Wimer managed the store while Catherine Sims was head cook. Harry secretly confided in me that he and Howard Derry were about to announce the invention of an apparatus which would revoluntionize the wireless system.

Thinking that I should like to attend a show, I went to a theatre and gazed at the bill-boards. The vaudeville included an act by Smith and Smith. Upon further observation I saw that it was Paul and Wylma Smith. Alas! Two former G. H. S. students were making use of their training received at school in the Dramatic Club for Commercial Purposes.

In the advertisements which were thrown on the screen I read:

Coming out of the show, it seemed to me that all the men, and even some of the women, were going in one direction, and they all seemed to be going to one place. I breathlessly sought the reason for the stampede, and I learned that there was to be a great wrestling match that night. The present holder of the world's championship, "Mighty" McKee was to defend his title against a prominent wrestler and an aspirant to the title, "Plucky" Paton. The outcome was uncertain, and the interest keen.

Aside from this the town's interest was centered on the probable outcome of the coming election. Leon Wallace and William Baldridge were the candidates for Mayor on the Democratic and Republican ticket. They had held a series of debates at the Open Forum, and Mr. Wallace had been victorious in every one. He had served as a senator to the State legislature, and was considered a leader of his party. The betting was two to one in his favor, and it seemed likely that Mr. Wallace was to be the city's next Mayor. Long live the Democrats!

The Junior Class of '21

AT the opening of the fall term of 1920 the Junior class was composed of about one hundred and twenty-five members. Out of this number developed some of our best students, atheletes, musicians, etc. At the first class meeting elections were held. Charles Lamb was selected President, Dale West, Vice-President, Mildred Truttier, Secretary, and Ruth Kindle, Treasurer. Mrs. Gray was selected Faculty Advisor.

In social activities, the Junior class took a leading part and was more or less responsible for the success of many of these affairs.

Looking toward the future, the class elected the Benny Staff, and the Ring and Pin Committee for '22. These elections were held so as to enable the members of these committees to gain valuable information from the graduating Senior Staff, and to enable them to get an early start in their work. The Staff will have as their Editor-in-chief, Bernice Richardson, who is well qualified for the position. Herbert Owen as Business Manager, having a great deal of experience in this work should easily fill his position in excellent style. Helen Lamb, the Financial Manager, should easily be able to handle this. Sarah Moore and Harold Wheeler will take care of the athletics. To be on this staff one must be well qualified and a leader in the school.

The Ring and Pin Committee has for its Chairman, Emel Bohannon. His two able assistanst are Elizabeth Wiltse and Catherine Allen.

In Dramatics, Herbert Owen and Sheldon Neukom starred. Both took a leading part in the school operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom." Eileen Leitzman and Odetta Gates furnished music for almost every school social affair. Odetta is an artist on the Saxophone while Eileen plays the piano.

In athletics, the Juniors ranked with the best in Garfield. On the gridiron, they were represented by "Pop Dunlap, "Gallop" Mayrose, "Chuck" Lamb, Louis Lauterback, Dale West, Sheldon Neukom and Ross Woodburn. Three of these met with serious injuries during the football season, Dale West was injured in the game with Clinton while Sheldon Neukom and "Gallop" Mayrose were both injured in practice. "Gallop" did not get in the Wiley game but he says that he will sure be there next Turkey day.

Captain "Bugs" Dorsey, "Rabbi" Rukes and "Red" Wilson were Juniors during the Football season, therefore the class considers these players as their representatives although, they are not Juniors at present.

On the basket ball floor the class was represented by "Babe" Wheeler, Ross Woodburn, "Tom" Downs, "Bugs" Dorsey, "Gallop" Mayrose, Fred Modlin, "Peg" Kalen, "Tede" Poynter, "Boots" Risher, while "Chuck" Lamb, "Pop" Dunlap, Fred Modlin, "Tom" Downs, "Gallop" Mayrose, and Stanley Torr, were the Juniors on the Track Team. The Junior Track Team captured the interclass track and field meet by a large margin. "Wabby" Wilson, Garfield's yell-leader is also a Junior.

In many other school activities, the class is well represented. Mildred Truttier being (President of the Blue Triangle Club), Bernice Richardson (President of the Latin Club), Herman Dersch (Editor-in-Chief of the Review). The Review Staff overcame many obstacles and deserve much credit for their work. The members of this staff are: Herman Dersch (Editor-in-Chief), Ruth Kindle (Assistant Editor), Herbert Owen (Business Manager), Thelma Rowe, and Grace Lamb (Assistant Business Manager), Vern Dorsey and Colleada Poynter (Athletics), Ross Woodburn and Frances Mayrose (Organizations), Eileen Leitzman (Jokes) and Harold Risher (Class Reporter).

The class also has many members on the Honor Roll. Bernice Richardson being second on the list with an average of 97-3-5 percent.

At all athletic, social and school affairs the Junior Class has always attended 100 percent strong.

Due to the efficiency and untiring efforts of Mrs. Gray (Faculty Advisor), and the cooperation of the members of the class the Junior year has been a complete success.

GARFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

The Sophomore Class

SOMEBODY said that the Sophomores were as much in the way as a little brother is, when "Big Sister" wants to entertain her beau. The "Big Sister" seems to think that the poor little fellow is something to be put out of the way. She forgets that he is useful in his own way for something. If you ask Sister what she would do without Buddy, she begins to wonder whether he really is not of a great deal of use to her and to everyone else.

That is just what happened at Garfield High School. The upper classmen once thought the Sophomores were of little consequence, but they have changed their minds.

Perhaps to the worldly-wise Seniors, the Sophomores do seem insignificant, but if the Sophomore class would come up missing sometime, the whole army of Seniors would be out on its trail. They would all of a sudden remember that the Sophomores ranked second in the Inter-Class-Meet, and wonder if they would not make a real good Senior Class.

The Sophomores are well represented in athletics. Carson Harpold made eight points in the Quadrangular Track Meet this year; and that was not one bit bad for a Sophomore showing. The pitcher on the baseball team, Sydney Johnson is a Sophomore. How could a baseball team get along without an excellent pitcher? There are good football prospects represented, too. Does Garfield expect to win from Wiley next Thanksgiving? We Do! This victory cannot be ours without the football men of the present Sophomore class. Three of last year's regulars will be eligible for the team, Paul Mayrose, Delmer Wilson, and Sydney Johnson. It looks, in fact, as if the majority of next year's football team will come from the Sophomores. Some of the girls on the basket ball team are Sophomores, and you know how much we appreciate the efforts made by the Girls' Basket Ball Team.

At yell practice the Sophomores turned out splendidly, and every one of them knew how to yell. Not only at yell meetings, but at games, they made good use of their lung power.

They know how to make a party a success, too. They gave a Hard-Times Party that was a real success. Everyone had enough to eat, and a good time to settle his lunch. At the party they showed some real talent in their pantomime, "The Lamp Went Out." Here are some splendid prospects of a good Dramatic Club pretty soon. Harry Davis, a sophomore, took the part of "Kokemo" in "Miss Cherry Blossom."

Some of the Sophomores play in the orchestra, and by doing this are improving their musical talent, and at the same time helping in the school music.

The majority of the Sophomore girls are active in the Blue Triangle work, and many of them are Charter Members.

The Sophomore class recognizes a prospective Senior president in Olin Martin. He has done everything there was to be done to make school activities a success.

Many of the Sophomores worked hard at the "Benny" Carnival. They are almost 100 percent for the Review, and are boosting the "Benny". They have paid for their Benny promptly, and, of course waited patiently while two or three other pictures were taken, so they could make their showing.

The honor roll is full of Sophomore grades this year. Ask any teacher and he will tell you that the Sophomores are not shirking in their subjects, either.

They have bought freely of such things as arm bands, megaphones, etc., in order to boost the school interests.

Then somebody may ask whether Garfield can possibly get along without its present class of Sophomores. We Sophomores think not.

The Freshman Class

The Freshman Class of the year is the largest in the history of Garfield High School. Its total enrollment is three hundred-sixty-nine. Perhaps because of its numerical strength, perhaps because of its spirit, this class has enjoyed unusual privileges.

Last fall the members of this class staged a pep meeting in the auditorium which undoubtedly equalled those of the three upper classes. They were also allowed to break all precedent by enjoying a class party given by the Garfield faculty at which every one had a good time. This was the first year the freshman class was allowed to organize.

The officers who were elected in February are:

President - - - -	Harold Cox
Vice-President - -	Virginia Brewer
Secretary-Treasurer -	George Bogardus

Miss Small is the Freshman faculty advisor.

Captain Vern Dorsey

THE football season of 1920 for Garfield High School, was one of the biggest successes in the history of that sport. Having a total of nine games on the schedule, Garfield won six, lost two, and tied one. Having good prospects at the start of the season, Coach Clogston rounded into shape a mighty machine. Our opening game with the alumni was cancelled, and the team journeyed to Robinson only to meet defeat 14-7. Robinson is the only team on our schedule that has beaten Garfield so many times in succession. Our second game with Clinton, which was our first home game, Garfild won, pulling it out of the fire in the last eight minutes when "Chuck" Lamb, our speedy left end, went over the goal line twice. The other teams we met and disposed of until we journeyed to Marshall. There the Clark county boys gave us a big surprise holding us to a 13-13 tie.

Turkey day loomed up dark, and the rain was falling in mists. Garfield turned out with her host of supporters one-hundred per-cent to root for the purple and white. There, at the Athletic park exactly at 2:30 the game started. The Garfield team was unable to stop Wiley's team, and Wiley defeated Garfield by 13-0 for the first time since 1912.

Those who received letters this year were Capt. Dorsey, Staggs, Wilson, McKee, Mayrose, Johnson, Lauterback, Broderick, Nesbit, Rukes, Schoonover, C. Lamb, and Dunlap.

Basketball

THE 1920-21 basketball season for Garfield was a great success, the team winning sixteen out of twenty-three games. Garfield started the season with but one letter man, Captain Harry Staggs; Nesbit being ineligible on account of his studies. The first call for practice brought out forty candidates out of which the team was picked. Garfield played some of the best teams in the state including the three Indianapolis schools, Evansville, Vincennes, and Danville, Illinois. Each team that beat Garfield was in time beaten by the purple and white crew with the exception of Vincennes and Martinsville with whom we had no return games.

Garfield again won the city championship by decisively walloping both Wiley and Normal twice. Garfield had little trouble in beating Wiley, but with Normal the team had to fight all of the way. Although not in the Wabash Valley tournament Garfield decisively beat the champions of the tournament, Clinton once before and once after the tournament. In January Garfield lost one of her best forwards "Bern" Wheeler, but to compensate the loss, Risher, Nesbit, and Modlin became eligible, thus forming a mighty combination.

For the first time in the history of the school Garfield won the District Basketball Tournament by beating four teams, namely, Perrysville, Normal, Glenn, and Cayuga. The team played one game Friday, and three Saturday. At ten o'clock Saturday morning Garfield beat Normal, the team that had put Garfield out of the running for the last two years. The game was uncertain until the last when Captain Staggs uncorked and put in three goals. The Glenn game was featured by the play of their center Dickerson who, when the score was a tie, shot the ball through Garfield's goal by mistake. In the final game Garfield stacked up against Cayuga. Cayuga was considered a strong team but they proved easy for Garfield; the northenders beating them 42—17.

On March 17, the team went to Bloomington to the State Sectional Meet only to be beaten by the fast Martinsville five 39—18. Garfield was handicapped by the large floor and the glass banking boards. The team got away to an early eight point lead but was unable to hold it.

Those who received letters were: Captain Staggs, Risher, Broderick, Harold Wheeler, Modlin, Schoonover, Bernard Wheeler, Nesbit and Woodburn.

The schedule and scores for the season are as follows:

Girls' Basket Ball, 1920-21

THE Basket Ball girls of 1920-21 had a very successful season. At the first call for practice a great number of girls turned out and under the coaching of Miss Gertrude Steepleton a fine team was produced. The first two games played were very close and hard fought. The game with Vincennes was two to nothing at the end of the first half, but the girls got busy and won by a four point margin. They also won from Waveland, and the next night easily defeated the Hymera team.

The Garfield Five have unquestionable title to the city championship, having twice defeated Normal High and West Terre Haute; also the strong Y. W. C. A. team on the Y floor. The Sullivan team who claim the state championship, was held to a tie score after three periods of overtime play. The only defeat of the season was by the fast Monrovia team.

The total number of points made was 260 against their opponents' 88, the highest score being made at Petersburg where they totalled 63 points. A great deal of credit must also be given to Miss Shirley who secured the games for the team.

Those who received letters were: Jones, Capt., Corban, Moore, Kalen, and Wright.

The scores are as follows:

Garfield	- -	10	Vincennes	- -	6
Garfield	- -	7	Waveland	- -	5
Garfield	- -	31	Hymera	- -	1

Girls' Basket Ball Team

Track

AT the beginning of the track season prospects were just fair but Coach Clogston got down to business and has developed a mighty good team. The inter-class track meet brought out some good runners. The meet was won by the Juniors, the Sophs coming second, while "Schoonie", the Senior team took third. The first meet was a dual meet with Normal High of Terre Haute, which Garfield easily won by score of 64-30. The next meet was a quadrangular meet between Garfield, Wiley, Paris, and Brazil. Garfield also won this meet by a good margin, Wiley finishing third.

Paris has for two years sent out invitations to participate in a Tiger Track and Field Meet at Paris. This year between forty and fifty invitations were sent out. The Garfield thin-clads went over with high hopes and brought back the bacon. Out of the twenty-six schools entered, Garfield came out first with 25 points. The boys took five firsts. The best events of all were the fifty and hundred yard dashes in which "Chuck" Lamb beat his colored rival, Jenkins, from the south side school. "Red" Harpold did not have much trouble in winning the half-mile but in the mile he had good opposition and had to step some to win. Captain Dunlap easily won the pole vault at ten feet, eight inches. Four of last year's records were shattered by the Garfield thin-clads, namely the fifty and hundred yard dashes, the mile run, and the pole vault. Garfield now holds six Tiger records, the other two being hung up by Harry Conover last year, in the four forty and eight eighty dashes. The boys received gold medals, and the winning team was given a large loving cup.

The next Friday Garfield and Wiley met for a dual meet in which Wiley won with a score of 55-53. Could Coach Clogston have been there the outcome would probably have been different, but he was at home with the mumps. On May 21 the district meet will be held at Greencastle. Garfield has great hopes of winning this meet. On the following Saturday, the state meet will be held at Bloomington and we also expect to place there.

The team this year is composed of the following: Capt. Dunlap, "Chuck" Lamb, "Red" Harpold, "Schoonie", Fisher, Torr, Modlin, Everson, and Downs.

Tennis

THE Tennis Association was organized this year the first week in April. The following officers were elected: James Taylor, president; Virginia Logan, vice-president; and Sara Moore, secretary-treasurer. The courts are being put into shape by the members of the association and will soon be ready for playing. Games for this year have been scheduled with both Wiley and Normal. Garfield should be well represented this year in this sport, as she still has three of last year's stars, namely, James Taylor, Harold Nesbit, and Mary Jones, besides a world of new material.

Mr. Clogston

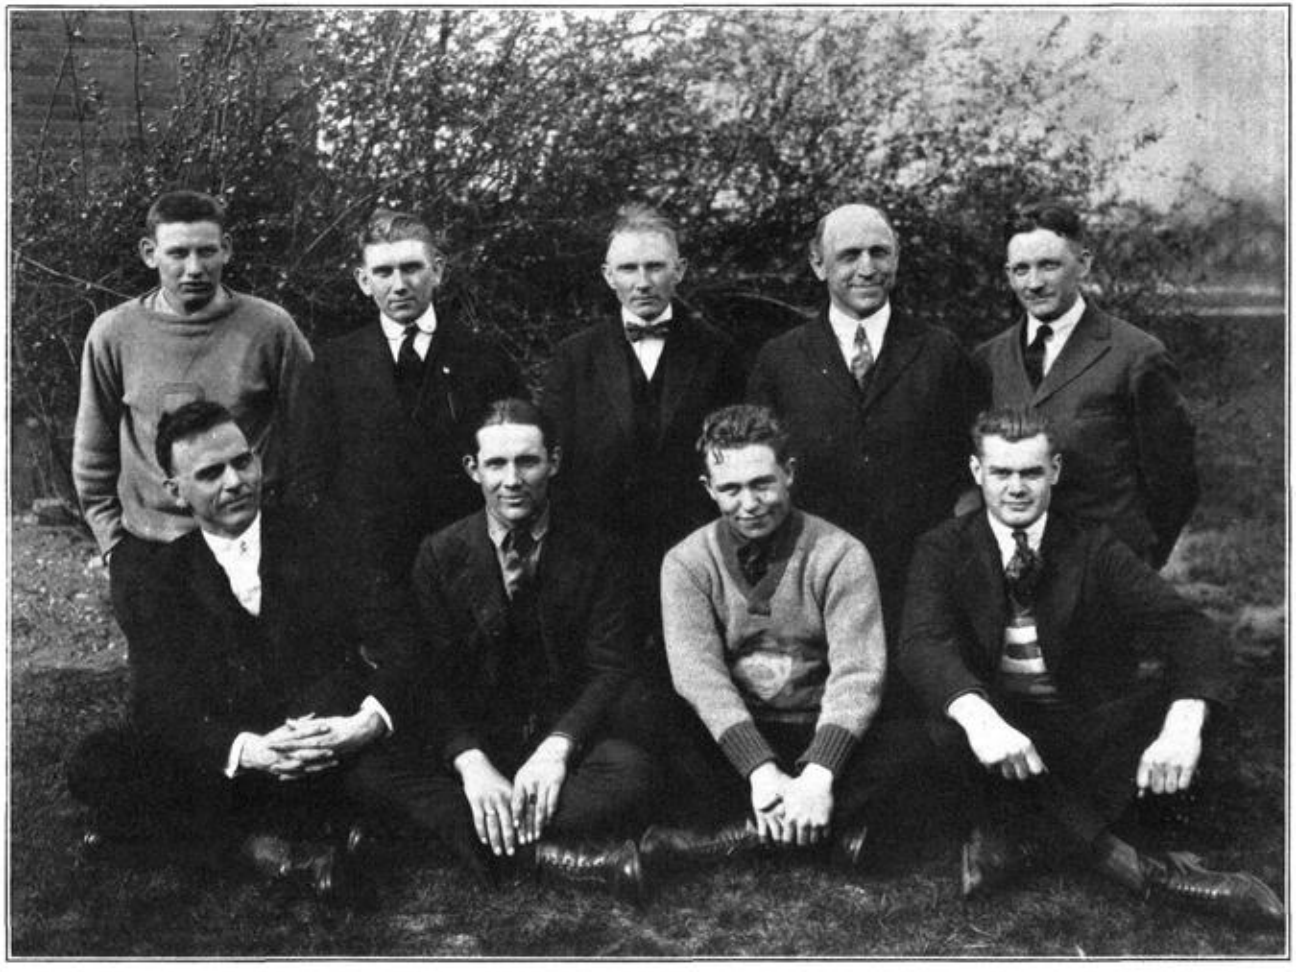
MR. Clogston, our coach, has certainly been loyal to Garfield. He has ever been ready to serve Garfield and has given the best he has, especially to athletics. It has taken energy, patience, and time to coach our boys and one cannot give too much credit to Mr. Clogston who has developed real teams of athletes, who always played with a spirit of victory, even to the last minute and fearing no opponents. He has the real spirit, and even in case of defeat, always spoke encouraging words to the boys, making them go back into the game more determined to win. Mr. Clogston has won both the respect and loyalty of the boys and has proved an able director. His return to Garfield as coach next year is hoped for by the entire student body who deeply appreciated his work.

ORGANIZATIONS

Athletic Board of Control

THE board of control is a student-faculty organization composed of five members of the faculty and four members of the student body. The purpose of this organization is to control the Athletics of Garfield High School. It discusses and passes on such matters as finance, awarding of letters, care of athletic goods, etc.

The four student members are elected from the student body each year. This year Harold Nesbit, president; Vern Dorsey, vice president; Norman Dunlap, secretary; and Harold Schoonover, board member, represent the student body. The faculty members are elected by the faculty and this year are E. E. Hylton, E. B. Clogston, L. E. Fair and L. C. Halberstadt. Our principal, Mr. Records, is also a member and exercises a very strong, wholesome influence on the business of the board. He votes, however, only in the case of a tie vote.



The Student Council

DURING the first semester of this year, when Garfield had the ten period day, there arose a need for watchmen in the halls. These watchmen were needed to keep order in the halls when pupils entered the building while a period was in session. There were not sufficient teachers to perform this duty so the responsibility fell upon the students to assist in this work.

After much discussion, it was decided to hold an election for members of a representative body of the school, namely the Student Council. The candidates were those pupils who were on the honor roll, that is, those who had an average of ninety or above. There were to be elected nine Seniors, eight Juniors, seven Sophomores, and six Freshmen. A very good school spirit was shown at the election by the large number of votes cast.

Those students who were elected are: Blanche Richardson, chairman; William Baldridge, secretary and treasurer; Wayne Watkins, Orville Dunning, Leon Wallace, Donovan Jenkins, Malachi Topping, Bernice Cordell, Agnes Warriner, Bernice Richardson, Sarah Moore, Thelma Dinkins, Helen Day, Harold Cox, Helen Gardner, Frances Hand, Mary Fread, Letha Owen, Loretta Hulman, Frances Spear, Margaret Dill, Bertha Yatsko, Marye Newsom, Marguerite Corban, Reba Morgan, Catherine Allen, Joy Dorsey, Helen Lamb, Pauline Witty, and Maybelle Stewart.

The Student Council meets every two weeks on Monday night. These meetings have been well attended each time, and some splendid work has been done. The sole purpose of the Council is to better the conditions in the school and promote the highest ideals of cooperation between the faculty and student body.

The measures to be discussed by the Council are introduced by the members. The measure may be original with a council-member or it may be, recommended by a student. If the Council passes the measure, it is presented to the faculty in a joint meeting. In this way, the Council has been able to make Garfield a better school, and it is to be assured that its good work will have a wonderful effect upon the school.

The Blue Triangle Club

THE Blue Triangle Club is a national organization for High School Girls, through the Young Women's Christian Association. It is a club to bring High School Girls together toward higher ideals and living.

The Garfield Blue Triangle Club was organized in October of 1920 by Miss Margaret Gardner, Girls' work Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. The following officers of the club were elected: Mildred Truttier, President; Martha Bell, Vice-president; Helen Lamb, Secretary; and Helen Hansel, Treasurer.

The meetings of the Club follow four distinct lines, one meeting a month being devoted to business, one to social, one to service, and one to Devotion.

The Blue Triangle as a school organization has endeavored to support all enterprises. Before the Thanksgiving game the girls made armbands and sold them. During the basket ball season they sold megaphones, and at several games sold candy. Early in the year Eleanor Neukom was elected club yell leader and many spirited pep meetings were held. At the Benny Carnival the Triangle girls had charge of the candy booth, and all of the girls responded wonderfully.

When it comes to having a good time, the Triangle girls cannot be surpassed. The first party that was attempted was a kid party at the Y. W. C. A. This was surely a great success. The next social event was a banquet in honor of Garfield's foot-ball team. This was considered one of the best of all the Triangle affairs. As the year of 1920 grew to a close, it approached the time to take in new members. A Christmas party was held in honor of the Freshman Girls who were barred from the club until they became Sophs. The Service committee came into play here by taking the presents from the grab bag to the orphan's home. After Christmas, followed initiation and about twenty-five new girls were taken into the club. One of the largest events in the year was the joint Blue Triangle Party at the Y. W. C. A. to which the girls of Wiley, Normal, and Garfield Blue Triangle Clubs were invited.

Now and then Triangle Girls become tired of staying in the house, so they take long hikes. There have been several, which were enjoyed by all. The week from May 1 to 7 was National Mother-Daughter week. A banquet was held at the Maple Ave. M. E. Church which all the girls and their mothers attended.

The Blue Triangle Club is to be complimented on its work, for it is this kind of an organization that fits girls for their work in the world. It is the hope of all that the Garfield Blue Triangle Club may continue to grow, and become bigger and better each new school year.

"Miss Cherry Blossom"

FOR several weeks the Boys' and the advanced Girls' Glee Clubs, assisted by the Garfield Orchestra rehearsed for the Japanese Comic Operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom" which was presented on March 10 and 11.

The stage setting was a very beautiful tea garden in which all three acts took place. The story centered around Miss Evelyn Barnes, an American girl born in Japan. While very small, she was left in the care of Kokemo, a Japanese inn-keeper, her parents having died of a fever. Worthington, her father's secretary used her property for the benefit of his own interests. When Evelyn, known as Cherry, was about eighteen years old, Worthington returned to Japan on his yacht with a party of American friends. One of the party, Jack, fell in love with Cherry and wished to marry her. Kokemo objected because he wished her to marry Togo, a rich politician. When Togo failed to be reelected and Kokemo learned of Cherry's fortune, he readily consented to Cherry's marriage to Jack. Jessica and Harry, too, were in love and although they had a few little quarrels everything ended happily for them also.

The comedy was carried on from beginning to end by Kokemo with his comments and actions. Each character was well suited to his or her part and both acting and music were highly complimented.

"Miss Cherry Blossom" proved to be the best of Miss Arthur's productions.

"The Wild Rose"

"THE WILD ROSE," a Comic Operetta by W. Rhys-Herbert and Edith Burrows was presented at Garfield High School May 12 and 13 by the Freshman Girl's Glee Club, assisted by Avice Knipmeyer of the Advanced Glee Club and the Garfield Orchestra.

The Freshman Glee Club was organized last fall with a membership of over forty. Miss Arthur found so much talent in this club that she very soon decided to begin work on an Operetta. "The Wild Rose", which has an interesting plot, and extremely attractive music was chosen. An unusual feature of this Operetta is due to the fact that there is but one male character who was impersonated by Virginia Brewer.

Act I takes place in the drawing room of Rose McCloud's city home. Act II. A garden on Rose McCloud's country estate, one month later.

Time: the present.

The story is as follows: Rose McCloud, the most popular young society belle of her time, is bored with her artificial existence. An endless round of festivities and a maddening procession of adoring debutantes, newspaper interviewers, charity and reform leaders seeking her financial support; dress-makers, milliners, etc., drive her to distraction. Having achieved great success in society theatricals, she decides to go on the stage, and is desirous of obtaining the leading role in a play by Lady Grey, an eccentric woman playwright. Much to her amazement and disappointment, Lady Grey flatly refuses to consider her for the part and will not even grant her an interview, thinking her far too frivolous for the work. In utter disgust, she decides to leave the city surroundings, which have become so hateful, and go to the country under an assumed name.

The second act takes place at her country establishment, where thoroughly enjoying the simple life, she succeeds in outwitting an uninvited and undesired throng of city admirers who have tracked her to her country home, and come to pay her adulation. Meanwhile, she makes friends with a nice old country lady, who lives next door, and who turns out to be Lady Grey. When the latter discovers the true identity of Rose, she promises her the desired role in the play, and all ends happily.

DRAMATICS

Dramatic Club

OFFICERS:

President - - - -	Martha Bell.	Secretary - - - - -	Gertrude Smith.
Vice-President - -	Edith Flesher.	Treasurer - - - - -	Everett Gosnell.

ALL seniors who were interested in dramatics were asked by the senior class president, John Markland, to come to a meeting held on the evening of October 19, 1920. The purpose of this meeting was to organize a dramatic club. Twenty seniors came to the meeting, and seemed very enthusiastic for the club. Miss Shirley was asked to be the faculty advisor. With her help many matters concerning the organization of a dramatic club were discussed.

At the next meeting the club was organized, and all ready for work. Various sketches were discussed and a committee was appointed to obtain sketches suitable to be given during an assembly.

A committee composed of Howard Derry, Edith Flesher, John Markland, and Gertrude Smith was chosen to meet with the faculty committee on dramatics, and Miss Shirley, for the purpose of drawing up a constitution.

The purpose of this club has been to cultivate an appreciation of dramatic art among Garfield students by the study, staging, and presentation of simple, wholesome plays.

At the Christmas assembly the club presented "A Christmas Chime." The cast consisted of:

Joe Terrill.....Earl Dawson.
Gladys Terrill (wife of Joe Terrill).....Edith Flesher.
Dolly Wakelee (a dear friend of Gladys')..Thelma Rowe.
Ted Owen (Dolly's lover).....John Markland.

This play was a decided success, due to the cooperation of the members of the club, Miss Shirley, and Miss Arthur.

After this play was staged, the members, as well as the student body, were very eager that the club present another play. Work was begun immediately on two short sketches, "Double-Crossed" and "Dispatches from Washington," which were to be presented at the next assembly.

On the evenings of May 3d and 4th, "It Pays to Advertise" was presented. The cast consisted of:

Cyrus Martin (Soap King).....Virgil Broderick.
Rodney (his son).....John Markland.
Mary Grayson (Cyrus Martin's Sec.).....Mary Moore.
Ambrose Peale (Rodney's advertising manager)—Harry Dowell.
Ellery Clark (Son of Cyrus Martin's rival in soap business—Everett Gosnell.
Countesse de Beaurien.....Gertrude Smith.
Henry Smith (Cyrus Martin's oldest friend).Ernest Ewers
McChesney (Advertising man).....Harold Nesbit.
Johnson (Butler at Cyrus Martin's).....Earl Dawson.
Charles Bronson (Agent from Marshall Field)—Herman Rector.
Miss Burke (Office girl for Rodney).....Inis Martin.
Marie (French maid).....Bertha Yatsko.

This play, it will be remembered, was indeed, very successful. The presentation showed a very decided improvement in the ability of the members of the club and the skillful direction of Miss Shirley and Mr. Maehling.

The club was then divided into groups, each working on a sketch. At the latter part of the term a bauquet was given, to which members of the Junior class, that were interested in dramatics, were invited.

It is the desire of the Senior Dramatic Club that many dramatic clubs be organized early next year; that they carry a full program throughout the year; that dramatics be placed on a par with athletics; and that the clubs will, first and above everything else, create a desire and maintain a standard of better, and higher-class entertainment.

The Latin Club

IN October 1920 Miss Lammers and Miss Acock called a meeting of several students whom they knew were especially interested in Latin. It was suggested at this meeting that the Latin students form some sort of an organization at Garfield. The result was the formation of the Latin Club, with Gordon Kittle, president; Agnes Warriner, secretary; and Bernice Richardson, chairman of program committee.

The purpose of the Latin Club is to promote in the school a desire for a more extensive study of Latin and to enable the student to become acquainted with the more enjoyable and also practical side of the language. Membership in the club is limited to those students who have completed at least one year's study of Latin.

The club meetings are held every two weeks. The programs at the meetings are arranged by the program committee, consisting of the chairman and four assistants. The programs are rendered entirely by the club members. Several Latin songs, both popular and patriotic, have been learned. Short Latin plays are also given. At each meeting a student gives a short sketch of some phase of old Roman life Latin games are also played, many of which help the student to enlarge his vocabulary. At present the club is planning to take up the study of Roman and Greek mythology. The club tries in all of its programs to link the Latin of the past to present times and to give the student those things pertaining to Latin which will help him not only in studying Latin but also in his other school work.

Much credit is due Miss Lammers and Miss Acock for their efficient aid and advice in the club work. Both have shown themselves willing and eager to help the club in all work that is undertaken.

The club is planning to close its first year of existence with a Latin party to be given in June.

The present officers of the Latin Club are: Bernice Richardson, president; Agnes Warriner, secretary; and Bernice Cordell, chairman of the program committee.

The Literary Club

THE Literary Club was formed early in October, 1920. At the first meeting Miss Froeb was elected faculty advisor, Blanche Richardson, president; Thelma Dinkins, secretary; and Margaret Mahoney, treasurer.

The club never boasted of a large membership because it seems that the mere title "literary" holds unknown terrors for the average student. They need not have any misgivings, however, since the club was only formed for pleasant reading and discussion of any stories, books, or plays. Under this plan the club had many delightful meetings. At first the different types of short stories were discussed, later plays were read. The original plan of the club was to give at least one play, but the handicap was that only girls were members, and it was difficult to secure a play with only girl characters. One interesting feature was the study of the recent novel "The Four Horsemen of the Apocolypse" by the noted Spanish novelist, Blanco Ibanez. The club originally met every Thursday, but during the latter part of the term, the meetings had to be postponed because of the numerous senior obligations. It is the sincere wish of every member of the club that the "Literary Club" will be reorganized next term, and will be a huge success.

Psalm of the Freshman Class

Miss Kelly is my teacher; I shall not pass.

She maketh me to add long columns; she exposeth my ignorance before the whole class.

She restoreth my sorrow; she causeth me to devise deceitful methods for my grade's sake.

Yea, though I study until midnight, I shall gain no knowledge, for addition and subtraction sorely puzzle me, and factoring distresses me.

She prepareth a test of great length for me; she giveth me a low grade.

My tears runneth over.

Surely distress shall follow me all the days of my life and I shall dwell in the Freshman class forever.

His Tuneful Message

Included among the passengers on board a ship crossing the Atlantic recently was a man who stuttered. One day he went up to the captain of the ship to speak to him.

"S-s-s-s-s-," stuttered the man.

"Oh, I can't be bothered," said the captain, angrily; "go to somebody else."

The man tried to speak to everybody on board the ship, but none could wait to hear what he had to say. At last he came to the captain again.

"Look here," said the captain, "I can tell you what to do when you want to say anything; you should sing it."

Then suddenly, in a tragic voice, the man commenced to sing:

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot and never brought to mind?
The blooming cook's fell overboard and is twenty miles behind."

Mule Tonic

The farmer's mule had just balked in the road when the country doctor came by. The farmer asked the physician if he could give him something to start the mule. The doctor said he could, and, reaching down into his medicine case, gave the animal some powders. The mule switched his tail, tossed his head and started on a mad gallop down the road. The farmer looked first at the flying mule and then at the doctor.

"How much did that medicine cost, doc.?" he asked.

"Oh, about fifteen cents," said the physician.

"Well, give me a quarter's worth, quick!" And he swallowed it. "I've got to catch that mule."

It Pays to Advertise

A western evangelist makes a practice of painting religious lines on rocks and fences along public highways. One ran: "What will you do when you die?"

Along came an advertising man and printed under it: "Use Delta Oil. Good for burns."

Two gentlemen riding on a train were both very intoxicated.

First gent—"What time is it?"

Second gent—(after extracting a match box from his pocket with much exertion and gazing at it intently) ---"Thursday."

First gent—"My heavens, I've got to get off here."

WHY NOT?

A traveling man died and his body was sent home. The company wired his home florist and ordered a wreath to be sent out to his home, bound with a ribbon bearing the inscription "Rest in Peace" on both sides, and if there is room "We will meet in Heaven." Imagine the surprise of the family when the wreath arrived with the inscription "Rest in peace on both sides and if there is room we will meet in Heaven."
